Maritime Seaside Ship with Bath Salts

Instructions No. 1559
Working time: 1 hour

Treat yourself to the pretty decoration boat "Küstennebel" and enjoy a small "wellness oasis" in the bathroom. The boat is equipped with Napkin technique designed, equipped with self-made bath balls and Bath salts bottles. The small decorative shells and starfish are also self-cast with casting design!

So the decoration boat "coastal fog" becomes the "Cottage Seaside"

The wooden boat is first filled with white Handicraft paint primed. While the paint dries, the lettering and the seagull are removed from the Napkin cut out. Remove the lower paper layers from the napkin motif

Then the ship's surface to be covered with Napkin varnish the napkin motif is positioned on it and smoothed with a brush. Paint the boat with ice-blue paint and match the boat colour with wiped white and brown tones to the Napkins-lettering.

Turbo fun Bath salts and balls

With the bath ball former and base Bath salts your own creations will be successful very quickly. Add Soap colour to that - your own creations are ready. If you like, you can find dermatologically tested soap additives and fragrances in the handicraft technique Soap design that shape the bath ball and make Bath salts even more personal

The bath balls can be packedin cellophane bags, for the Bath salts small glass bottles are converted into bottle mail. Simply tie a jute ribbon to it, write Fineliners on the self-adhesive labels and stick them to the ribbon from both sides.

Pouring decorative shells

The pretty shells are a great example of how creative the trend hobby of casting design is. To do this, you mix fine white creative powder with water according to the product instructions and pour it into the "Sea Shells" casting mould. After approx. 30 minutes the shells can be removed from the mould and after a further short time they can be painted in white, brown and ice-blue with Hobby Colour so that they look like the real thing.

For further decoration of the coastal fog decoration boat you can also simply use small ready made decoration accessories.
