Create your own bracelet from cut glass beads: a creative guide

Preparation: What you should know

Before you get started, you should know that you don't need any special prior knowledge. All you need is a Magic-Stretch elastic cord to thread the beads in a way that is both flexible and durable. The bead stringing needle is also an essential tool for working quickly and efficiently.

Step-by-step instructions for creating your bracelet

Step 1: Fix cord in place

Start by clamping the Magic-Stretch elastic cord between the bead stringing needle. The elastic cord ensures that the bracelet is stretchy and comfortable. Make sure that the needle is firmly attached so that the beads do not slip when threading.

Step 2: Select beads and pendants

Now it's time for the creative part! Choose your favorite colors and combine the beads. The glass-cut beads offer a great play of colors thanks to their multi-faceted structure. Arrange the beads in the order you like best. You can let your imagination run wild and experiment with patterns.

Step 3: Stringing the beads

Start threading the beads onto the cord one after the other. Using the bead stringing needle makes this step particularly quick and easy. Make sure you leave enough space at the end of the cord so that you can carry out the next step without any problems.

Step 4: Determine the right length

To determine the correct bracelet length, measure your wrist with a measuring tape or string. If you prefer to wear your bracelet more loosely, add 2 cm to the length determined. This will ensure that the bracelet fits comfortably.

Step 5: Tie the knot

Once you have reached the desired length, knot the two ends of the elastic cord firmly together. Tighten the knot well to ensure that it does not come undone and that the bracelet remains stable. For extra security, you can secure the knot with a drop of jewellery glue .
