Numerous cards are needed for confirmation or communion. Invitations, greeting cards and thank you cards play an important role in these church festivities. Homemade cards are particularly beautiful for this occasion as they can be personalized and include a personal message. This idea will give you some tips and ideas for creating beautiful cards for confirmation or communion.

How do I make cards for confirmation and communion?

There are countless ways to design cards. We will focus on a few basic materials that you can use to make numerous creations and add your own ideas.

Start with card blanks

You can cut cards yourself, but card blanks are particularly helpful for invitations or thank you cards. This allows you to efficiently make several cards at once. There are matching envelopes for many card blanks - our white card set is particularly popular. This simple set is an excellent basis for designing confirmation or communion cards. You can easily stamp, paint and glue on this neutral background. think about which color scheme suits your card beforehand, as confirmation and communion cards are traditionally soft and appropriate for the festive occasion. At the same time, they should be cheerful and festive.

Elements and decorations for the Card design

Papers for the Card design

Paper can be used in a variety of ways, be it coloured paper, photo cardboard or cardboard. It is ideal as a background or decorative element. Papers can be embossed or punched to create impressive 3D effects. Why not try a motif cardboard"Confirmation" range? Alternatively, scrapbooking sets and paper sheet sets also offer suitable materials. For a general congratulations card, a universal set makes more sense than a special Paper.

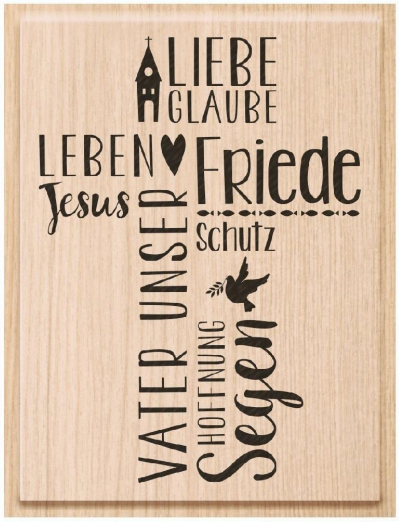

Sayings and congratulations for confirmation and communion

Congratulations, personal dedications and Bible verses give your card a personal touch. You can write them directly in beautiful handwriting. Alternatively, print your texts on special Paper, that is suitable for printers. A tip: Try printing on straw silk paper or vellum paper on the card.

Stamping technique on confirmation and communion cards

Stamping allows a variety of motifs and techniques. Working with acrylic stamps is particularly pleasant; thanks to the transparent material, you can easily determine the size of the motif Position of the motif easily. Universal motifs such as flowers, borders or lettering are also perfect. One example is the "Our Father" wooden stamp.

Stamping and embossing for confirmation or communion
