Look Who's Watching! Become a Frog! Creative Crafting Instructions for a Fun Frog Hat

Dressing up is the best for kids! Whether it's for a carnival or any other day of the year – with this simple guide, children can quickly transform into a cheerful frog. The creative frog hat made from a styrofoam ball is a great craft project that children can create with a bit of help. Let's get started!

Step 1: Prepare the Styrofoam Ball

Start with a large styrofoam ball - the suitable size of 20 cm in diameter ensures that the hat fits perfectly on a child's head. You'll paint one of these halves with green paint. Use Hobby Color in light green, as it is versatile and dries quickly.

Step 2: Create the Frog Eyes

Now it's time for the eyes: Use two smaller styrofoam balls (e.g., with a diameter of 4 cm). Paint them halfway green. You can now insert toothpicks or craft sticks into the balls to attach them later to the frog's head. Cut the toothpicks or craft sticks to size and place the eyes on the half ball. With a hot glue gun, everything stays securely in place. Create the charming frog look by painting large black pupils with a white highlight and applying a perfect round "eyeliner".

Step 3: Give the Frog Its Voice

A frog without a croak is like a cake without a cherry – so your frog hat naturally needs a big, wide frog mouth! Make sure the mouth smiles nicely, and enhance the facial features if needed.

Step 4: The Final Touch

Voilà! Your frog hat is ready. If you want to add an extra detail to your creation, attach a ribbon to the edges of the half ball. This way, the hat stays securely on the head even during wild jumps.

What to Do with the Other Half of the Ball?

Now you have another half of the styrofoam ball left – how about continuing right away and creating a diligent bee, a dangerous grizzly, or one of many other animals? Which creatures are particularly popular with you? Let your imagination run wild and create more animal accessories!
