Pappmaché Osterhase "Bugs"

Instructions No. 1936

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 40 Minutes

Our papier-mâché rabbit "Bugs" is very decorative and above all very personal. Learn here how a simple blank can be transformed into a unique decorative figure.

Paint

First prime the papier-mâché blank with white primer. This will make Handicraft paint. the colours applied in the second layer appear clear and brilliant. Before painting, draw the individual colour fields and contours of the rabbit with a Strich-Ex pencil. Ink This pencil will disappear after some time, but will be visible long enough to give you a great help in painting. Paint the individual colour fields, starting with the light colours and ending with the dark colours.

Detailed work
The contours of the face are best painted with the Strich-Ex pencil again, then trace Fineliners all lines with a black one. Paint the nose with black paint, let the paint dry

For the whiskers, two small holes are made to the right and left of the nose with a tingling needle, into each of which three slightly bent pieces of winding wire of equal length are inserted and fixed with hot glue. A "monocle" is formed from aluminium wire. This silver wire ring is attached to a black Cotton cord one and wrapped around the rabbit's neck. This makes the rabbit look particularly "smart"

Finally Easter bunny "Bugs" still only from a Linen ribbon pretty bow tie manufacture.
